

Abdullah Saab F22SP5578

Assalamualikum, based on the decision of today's Misconduct hearing, the decision of getting a zero on FSPK 0012.

First of all, I admit that this was a huge mistake and it was my first time to misconduct any faculty and this will be my last time.

Second of all, you gave the same decision to F22SP5577 when I was the one who studied and he didn't, I was under emotional stress from being away from my parents and I just wanted to help, and if you opened my coursework and my final exam paper (second paper) you will see that I actually really studied for this course, I even got the highest mark on Test 1 along with my fellow classmate (40/45).

Third of all, getting a zero on this course will mean that I automatically fail and I will have to repeat this course only (FSPK 0012) after I finished my ASASI year, not only will this set me back but will also demotivate me from the next semesters. Also with my FSPK 0012 mark disregarding today's decision, I passed everything alhamdulillah and it's not worth repeating 3 months worth of projects, tests and the final exam just because of a stupid decision I made under stress from my final exams. I'm also willing to pay from my Student Bond fees as a punishment regarding my misconduct.

Now with a humble request to reconsider your decision and become more lenient towards your next decision. This is something I will never forget as this was a really horrible mistake from my end and I sincerely apologise for disrespecting all of my lecturers and most importantly my fellow classmates.

Thank you,

Abdullah Saab.
